EL PASO BEARS FAVORITE BAND

22d Infantry Boys Parade Streets, Playing "Everybody's Doing It."

Playing "The National Emblem" march, which was such a favorite on the 1912 trade excursion, the 22d Infantry band came swinging up San Francisco street from the union station Friday morning to serenade the city which claims them as its own. When the band marched into Pioneer Plaza it switched to "Everybody's Doing It," another favorite of the trade trip, and they were cheered from window and store doorways. They continued to play in spite of the rain, and then went to call on friends they had made on the trip through Arizona and New Mexico with the trade excursion in the fall of 1912.

The band is still under the direction of chief musician Charles F. Waddington, one of the best known, although one of the youngest, directors in the army. He directed the band in the 1912 trade excursion, and while the 22d Infantry was stationed on the border here. His concerts were given in Cleveland Square weekly and the band appeared at public affairs in El Paso during the time that the regiment was stationed in El Paso.

The band is accompanying its regiment to Nacoz, Ariz., and took advantage of the wait in El Paso to give the parade and complimentary concert. Only 11 of the men who accompanied the trade excursion remain as members of the band, the others having been discharged from the army. These bandmen are: Chief musician Waddington, known as "Waddy" to all El Paso; drum major D. Boyce, who accompanied the trade excursion to Nacoz, Ariz., on the band drum; Sergeant Dan Boyce, drum major; principal musician Carl F. Miller, cornet; Sergeant F. Fischer, baritone; Sergeant D. McCarthy, clarinet; Sergeant H. Wilson, bass; Sergeant G. Strobel, clarinet; Corp. Schrammer, alto; Corp. Carl Fischer, cornet; Corp. Ralph Gendall, trombone; Corp. Earl Somerville, snare drum; Corp. Raymond Good, piano and drums; Corp. James, flute and piccolo; Corp. "Grande" Dallas, bass; Corp. Allen, clarinet; private Kay, trombone; private E. Burns, alto saxophone; private Chas. Boehm, alto; private De Carlos, cornet; private Francis, E. H. Cornet; private Geo. King, baritone; private Lasso, trombone; private Leland, clarinet; private Mitchell, alto; private J. "HELP FARMERS" "HELP THEM EAT"

Will Be Launched Monday at Meeting of Business Men of the City.

The "Made in El Paso" campaign is to be followed by a "Help the Farmers" movement. To launch this movement a meeting of El Paso business men was held at 4 o'clock, at the chamber of commerce. Representatives of business men, institutions and individuals interested in the valley are expected to attend the meeting.

Plans for the formation of a Farmers' Loan association to be a real and practical help to both the farmers and the business men, will be discussed at this meeting. Tentative suggestions for the formation of the association call for the subscription of from $50,000 to $100,000 per year for three years by 200 representative business men and institutions. This money is to be loaned to farmers after thorough investigations have been made relative to the stability of the collateral offered.

It is not expected that this association will advance any funds required by settlers in the valley, but it will take care of a great deal of the demand. It is the belief of those behind the movement that the agricultural district around El Paso can be economically and thoroughly developed and that the realization of this end will be the best thing for the valley. The interest rates will be reasonable and with assured financial backing it is believed that the vast business of settlers will be attracted to the El Paso valley.

FRENCH TROOPS WEARING UNIFORM THAT IS BETTER

London, Eng., Dec. 19.—A correspondent in France of an English newspaper says of the new French military uniform, "The color is agreeable to the eye, and to make up for the blow to the sensibilities of French patriots which the disappearance of the old red trousers and blue tunics with its historic associations will naturally cause, red and white threads are woven into the blue. The blue-gray is an excellent shade for escaping notice. It will blend particularly well with the gray winter landscapes in which the troops are now fighting. It is perhaps no question so good in this respect as the German uniform, which is distinctly lighter and grayer. It would be impossible to confuse the two except at a great distance, and in any case, the flat German cap will remain a distinctive mark, the cap of the new French uniform being something like the glengarry in shape with flaps which can be folded down over the ears. Cap, coat and trousers are all of the same color."
